A Short yarn was spun to us on last evening, of and concerning the experi-ments of milling of a couple of friends of ours, now or lately so journing for health and pleasure at the Talladega Springs. It is unneccessary to give names of these gentlemen, but for convenience we will call them, respec-tively, John and Joel. They, it may be remarked, have great similarity of tastes, and among other penchants, are very fond of fishing; and everybody knows that the vicinity of Talladega

Springs offers fine opportunity to the skillful knight of the fly.

Thus John and Joel—there being no religious services at the Springs that day—went out, Sunday before last, to the mill of Mr. B.—, a mile or two

The party was snug; the wind was propitious; and the fish altogether amiable. A cosy, fine dinner of brown and crisp mountain fish was soon washed down with a few glasses of champagne; and then cigars were lit. As the smoke curled languidly about their noses, Satan, (who was invisibly present, without an invitation,) suggested to John, that that mill was "a slow coach," and eouldn't cut much lamber; and John expressed the same opinion to Joel. Joel thought differently, and so did Smith.

Let's try her," said John.

Having done a credit business in this place for the last eight years, we have seen enough of its ruinous consequences to be sick and tired of it. It damages both buyer and soller, and we have done with it. We intend to offer our goods at such low figures as will induce purchasers to pay

At the present time there is quite a large mumber of persons who will not be trusted at all, and there is a much larger portion of the community who cannot get credit any where, but are obliged to pay eash at credit prices. These two classes form, perhaps, more than one-half of our population and there is sto good reason why a poor man should pay more than a rich one; and no senses to far and no sense to all in charging CASH CUSTOMERS for bad debts incurred under the present mode of merchandizing. Ague Cure.

Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilions Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of miasmatic countries.

No one remedy is louder called for by the necessities of the American people than a sure and safe cure for Fever and Ague. Such we are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will cradicate the disease, and with assurance, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

That which protects from or prevents this disorder must be of immense service in the communities where it prevails. Prevatina is better than cure, for the patient escapes the risk which he must run in violent attacks of this baleful distemper. This "Coun" expels the miasmatic poison of Faven and Ages from the system and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discover d for this class of complaints, but also the chemest. The large quantity we supply for for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where Fryen and Adue prevails, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and pratection. It is hoped this price will place it within the reach of all—the poor as well as the rich. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the min-matic poison. A great variety of fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the min-matic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gont, Headache, Blindocss, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysteries, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Declaration, Painful affection of the Spleen, Hysteries, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Declaration, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysteries, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Particular and Partic Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Curn" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be exercted from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into d sease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittents, if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy a
